

Jennifer Beers serves as the Coordinator at the Center for Houston's Future, where she started in fall of 2021. She works to support initiatives across the organization, including the very successful Business/Civic Leadership Forum program.

Jennifer received her B.A. in Political Science and International Studies from Stephen F. Austin State University in 2009 and her M.A. in Political Science with a focus on Comparative Politics and secondary focus of International Relations in 2011. She wrote her thesis on Europeanization and the rise of extremist parties in Europe. After college she returned to Houston where she worked for several international organizations including Reliant Holdings, the Australian-American Chamber of Commerce and the British Consulate. Jennifer also spent almost six years in the Voter Registration Department of the Harris County Tax Assessor's office, working to provide accurate voter rolls to local districts/entities holding elections, mapping jurisdictional changes, and leading volunteer deputy voter registration trainings.

She was born and raised in Houston and lives with her husband Adam, 5-month-old daughter Charlotte, and her goldendoodle Chloe. Outside of work, Jennifer enjoys reading, baking, and all things British/Irish.
